SBTi Academy Discounts

Individuals from NGOs are eligible for the following discounts:

- Practitioner Hub: All paid modules are free.
- Certification Hub: 25% discount.

Individuals from low-income economies or lower middle-income economies are eligible for discounts, calculated using the World Bank Atlas method:

- Practitioner Hub: 40% discount on paid modules.
- Certification Hub: 25% discount.

For Certification, companies wanting to certify 5 or more employees, should get in touch via certification@sciencebasedtargets.org where we will be able to issue a company invoice including a 10% discount. Once the invoice is paid, all employees are then granted access on the site.

Discount Application and Verification

During account creation on the SBTi Academy login page, users will be asked to declare:

a) whether they represent NGO organization; and b) their country of residence.

If the country is classified by the World Bank as a low-income or lower middle-income economy, or if the user is from an NGO, the corresponding discounts will be automatically applied. To qualify for the NGO discount, the individual must be currently affiliated or employed by an NGO.

Users may qualify under either category individually or under both simultaneously. If you are currently employed by an NGO and living within a country deemed low-income or lower middle-income as per the World Bank classification, then you will automatically receive the higher NGO discount.

The SBTi Academy platform will apply the relevant discount at the time of registration. Users' dashboards will automatically reflect their discounted or free access in line with the policies outlined above.

Ongoing User Verification

By registering for an account and declaring eligibility, users affirm that the information provided is accurate and complete.

All NGO and income related country declarations will be subject to a periodic review by SBTi Academy. If, during review, a user is found to have incorrectly declared their eligibility (whether intentionally or unintentionally):

- An invoice will be issued to recover the correct fees owed for access already granted; and/or
- Access to courses and/or certification will be immediately paused
- If the SBTi Certification has already been completed, your listing within the SBTi Register of Certified Experts will be removed until outstanding fees have been paid

SBTi Academy reserves the right to withdraw discounts, issue invoices, and terminate access in cases of false or misleading declarations.
